

WOMEN4WOMEN: A PLAY IN CYBERSPACE

Looking for love in all the wrong places?
Ever had a cyberdate?
Fallen in virtual love?

Four heroines try something new, Women4Women.com, in their quests for sex and romance.

Come see a romantic comedy where the characters meet online, and get to know each other, until it heats up so much all they can do is meet in person, with surprising results.

The characters:

Eva sees herself as the World's Greatest Lesbian Lover, but she has become addicted to on-line pornography and one-night stands.

Cole is a jaded, outspoken lesbian-feminist who, to her chagrin, is attracted to the stereotypical 'feminine' ideal.

Marty is a quiet wallflower who is determined to lose her virginity and wonders if she will be more successful on-line.

Lucy, despite having an on-line business dancing for men, is still searching for the meaning of life and love.
